Sisterhood News

Calendar

Have a Good Summer!

Wonderful News - But HELP!!!

Many of our Sisterhood members have called Miriam Crowell, new Sisterhood President and chief fundraiser for Ethiopian Jews, to see how we could help in the miraculous transport in late May of almost the entire remaining Jewish population from Addis Ababa to Israel. Obviously, the arrival of such a large number of people at one time (it had been expected to take at least two years), on top of the continuing arrivals from the Soviet Union, will require a lot of assistance. Clothing, shelter, and sustenance must be provided for them, along with help in dealing with the problems of becoming Israelis. So, please send your checks to the American Association for Ethiopian Jewry (AAEJ), 1836 Jefferson Place, N.W., Washington, D.C. 20036. Mention that you are a member of Beth El Sisterhood so they will know that we have maintained a continuing interest in the problems of these people.

Watch This Space for Further Information!

Look for a different and exciting upcoming year for Sisterhood. Plan to help us open the new year in September (date to be announced) when we will share brunch and take part in a Fashion Show that will range from children's to seniors' needs.

Job Bank Volunteer Needed

The Jewish Vocational Services of the Jewish Social Service Agency is looking for an articulate, organized volunteer to maintain the JVS Job Bank. Responsibilities include organizing and keeping current all Job Bank listings, contacting local companies for job listings, screening prospective clients, and entering data into a computer. Assistance is needed for 3-4 hours per day, 2 days per week, at the JVS office. For further information or to schedule an interview, call Nina Ellins at 301-816-2638.

State of Israel Bonds

Israel is faced with the task of absorbing record numbers of new arrivals from Ethiopia, the Soviet Union, and other places. Our help is needed more than ever to help Israel provide her newest citizens with a better future. Proceeds from the sale of Israel Bonds are being used to help finance the massive immigrant absorption programs that provide housing a job opportunities for the newcomers. For information about purchasing Israel Bonds, call the Israel Bond office at 301-654-6575.

Todah Rabah

In this, my final column, I'd like to thank all of you who have supported me over the past two years, both with your hard work and your words of support and encouragement. I particularly want to thank Rabbi Maltzman for always being there when I've needed him and for being such a pleasure to work with. A rabbi who is a friend and advisor as well as a teacher and spiritual leader is indeed a rarity, and I feel privileged to have gotten to work with him. Thanks also go to the rest of our professional staff, Cantor Lubin, Naomi Cohen, and Rabbi Rudolph, who have also given me support and encouragement whenever needed. To my Executive Board - Erwin Groner, Susan Sherzer, Gary Fuchsman, Ellen Ekow-Mintz, and Gloria Frank - these past two years would have been impossible without all of you. Because of the work of this special group of people, the affairs of the Congregation are in much better shape than they were two years ago - we are totally computerized, making budgeting much more accurate; our membership roster truly represents members in good standing; our services and programming have been enhanced by the addition of a full-time cantor; and we are a growing vibrant congregation.

There have been many others who have worked extremely hard and deserve thanks - Suzanne Bronheim and Emily Feinberg for their hard work in improving our Religious School; Amy Goott, Mary Beth Schiffman, and Ellen Darr for the best Nursery School in the area; Mark Weinberg and his committee who set up the Beth El Endowment Foundation; Toby Moss for recruiting a record number of new members; Yael Greenberg, Elissa Scheinberg, Rita Kopin, and Gloria Frank and all those who taught in the Hebrew Marathon and its follow-up courses and helped raise our Hebrew literacy; Benson Adams and the Constitutional Revision Committee; Claire Marwick for the success of the shopping certificate program; Elizabeth Bauer and Sisterhood for their support; Jack Edlow and his committee for two years of successful Dinner Dances; and all the other committee chairpersons and members who make this Congregation run.

Despite the occasional contentious issue, the past two years have been overwhelmingly positive. It has been my pleasure to serve as President of this very fine and special Congregation.

L'hitraot,
Marilyn

From the President

I want to thank the Congregation for electing me President. I feel it is an honor and I hope I will be able to meet your expectations. My program goals for this coming year will be to:

1. Continue with all the wonderful programs and activities that have made this congregation such a vibrant and living institution. Todah Rabah to Craig Dreilinger and his committee for the survey which showed how Beth El has filled the needs of every age group and to those who responded to the survey. The members commented on how pleased they are with Rabbi Maltzman and Cantor Lubin and how much they enjoy all the services from Shabbat to High Holy Days to Daily Minyanim.
2. Expand our programs and activities so that we can reach out and involve even more of our membership and have them become more a part of the family. As Brenda Gerwin, who, along with her husband Bob, is very active and supportive of the congregation, told me: "I get just as much in return, if not more so."
3. To balance the budget. Thanks to the marvelous work by Susan Siegel, the budget was presented in an organized and analytical fashion and was approved for next year. Also, thanks to the hard work over the past year by Gary Fuchsman, the data and backup was available to provide the necessary information to make up the budget.
4. To continue and increase the tradition of volunteerism that has made possible all the programs and activities that we enjoy and still be the most cost effective congregation (as pointed out by Susan Siegel in her presentation). A recent example of what can be accomplished is the work put in by Jay Olshonsky to find the best health care plan for the money for our professional staff. Because of his efforts, we will save $5,000 in the coming year in health care costs and still provide the same coverage as in the previous year.

Many people have told me I will feel younger with the new baby in our household and others have told me I will feel older being President of the Shul. That should put me at the right age to carry out both activities successfully. With your help, and God willing, that will be the case.

Erwin Groner

The Gala

We want to thank Linda and Leonard Greenberg for their generous contribution to The Gala.

*****

Rainbow Place

Our apologies to Ann Goodman for inadvertently omitting her name from the list of volunteers who helped at Rainbow Place. Todah Rabah, Ann.

Trip to Poland

Last summer, I travelled to Poland with a group of 61 other high school students from the United States and Canada in order to study about and tour several Nazi concentration and extermination camps. The week in Poland was the first part of the USY Israel Pilgrimage - Poland Seminar. I would like to thank Beth El for partially subsidizing my participation in that program.

The following recounts our first visit to a camp, at dusk on our first day in Poland.

After hours of driving through Polish countryside and forests, we had finally arrived. Our air-conditioned bus pulled up to the cement railroad platform at Sobibor. In a field to the left was a fire-watch tower. Across the tracks to the right was a kindergarten, with children playing. Everywhere else, there were trees.

After we had all climbed down from the two buses and onto the railroad platform, Mike, our group leader, reminded us of what we had learned about Sobibor and added more background. As we had listened, we heard a low rumble in the distance. We ignored it at first, but it got louder... In the deepening twilight, we saw the lights of an approaching train on the same tracks that had delivered hundreds of thousands of Jews to Sobibor to be murdered almost immediately. The train passed by only a few feet away. It was only a freight train, and there were no people to be seen.

Sobibor was burned to the ground by the Nazis in 1943, after a revolt by the few hundred inmates who were forced to work there at skilled labor. Today, almost no evidence remains that it was ever anything but a patch of forest. We began a walk to the back of the former camp on a path through the woods to see what is left. We passed a low stone wall about 12 feet long that served as a sign - SOBIBOR was spelled out in foot-high black letters. Our group walked slowly, aware of where we were and of the fact that the destruction of the camp itself had not decreased the significance of the terrible deeds done there. About halfway along and to the left of the path, which was only a few hundred feet long, there was a niche in the forest. A stone statue stood there in memory of the people and families who died at Sobibor: a mother with her child standing at her side, looking to the sky in despair. We continued down the path silently, overcome by where we were. In front of us, a mound was silhouetted against the sky. The mound was as tall as a man, at least 50 feet in diameter, and composed entirely of human ash. In front of the mound was a small flower garden edged with white stone. A low stone wall surrounded it to prevent it from washing away. A window in the wall facing the path allowed you to see more clearly what the low hill contained - ash, little pieces of bones, two shards of a human skull - all that remains of the 250,000 Jews who were brought to Sobibor on trains, lured into gas chambers, murdered, and cremated.

Our group held a short memorial service at the little flower garden and then we slowly walked back the way we had come, many with arms over each other's shoulders, regardless of the fact that we had met each other only two days before. We supported each other for the rest of that week, and we learned a great deal, including how easy it would be for the Holocaust to happen again and how important it is to prevent that horrible possibility.
